

Electric Aggregation Notices Mailed March 8 to Some Residents

The Village's Green Electric Aggregation Program has been ongoing since 2018, wherein participating residents and small business owners pay exactly the ComEd rate. The community benefits from Renewable Energy Credits derived from wind and hydro generators representing residents' power consumption.

Some residents who are not currently participating, or have recently moved into the Village will receive an opt out notice mailed March 8, 2023 so they may participate through the current term. Any resident who previously opted out will not receive this notice.

The recipients of the notice will be enrolled with MC Squared at their May 2023 meter read date unless they take action to opt out. Many La Grange Park residents have been enrolled from the program's beginning. They pay exactly the ComEd rate, receive one ComEd bill, and are charged no fees as there is zero added cost for this benefit of Green Energy.

How to opt out? Three ways: returning the pre-stamped postcard or contacting MC2 at 855-740-9991 or LaGrangePark@mc2energyservices.com. The program brings benefits to the community at zero added cost, and no fees to join or leave. Residents who wish never to receive any notice of any future electric aggregation savings program or green renewable energy program, may request to be placed on a permanent opt out list by emailing hello@ilagg.com and providing their name and service address.

Illinois deregulated the monopoly electric supplier in 1997, becoming one of the first Customer Choice States for electric supply. ComEd delivers supply but no longer generates power. As a result of this market competition, Illinois residents have enjoyed some of the lowest rates in the nation.

Through this program, the Village of La Grange Park earned one of the highest rankings in the USA by the EPA as a Green Power Partner—again, at zero added cost to residents and the Village!

The Village of La Grange Park has, through group purchasing power, enabled further electric savings in the early years of aggregation, and still continues to seek opportunities (through competitive blind bid) for savings or other no-cost added benefits. Should the Village renew the program again at its November 2024 term end, residents and small business owners would be notified of the supplier and terms in late summer 2024.
