LA GRANGE PARK – Gary and Lisa Radville are champions for the environment, so when the La Grange Park residents had the opportunity to reduce the amount of plastic water bottles that end up in landfills, they decided to do it. The couple created an online business, Lively Bottle, that sells environmentally friendly, personalized, reusable water bottles.

“There are an incredible number of disposable bottles sold in the U.S., and we’re both sensitive to climate change and pollution,” Gary said. “I think it’s wrong for people to use single-use water bottles.”

Not only are Lively Bottles better for the planet, they are unique to each customer. Through the website, customers can upload their own artwork, designs or photos to create a customized bottle that’s BPA-free and dishwasher safe. The site also has designs that were created by Chicago-area artists that customers can choose from if they don’t have their own ideas.

“We have the opportunity to make water bottles a part of people’s fashion, rather than just a piece of plastic,” Gary said. “Why carry around a bottle with a company’s name when you can have a bottle with your name or your art or your photos on it?”

Gary said another way his company is different is his bottles are made in the Chicago area, whereas most bottles sold in retail outlets are made overseas. He said he’s happy his company can create jobs right at home.

“Our printing process is also far superior than most companies’ because we print on a larger piece of film, which is inserted in between our insulated plastic bottles, which are then sealed together,” he said. “Our insulated bottles are great for both cold and hot beverages.”

Lisa Radville, who is a nurse practitioner, said she is happy the company is encouraging more people to carry water bottles with them, which can increase the amount of water people drink throughout the day.

“I see an epidemic of obesity in my job, and we want people to drink water instead of pop,” she said. “I don’t think people realize how important water is to good health. So many body systems require water to run efficiently. A large part of our bodies is water.”

- C. Illinois School Student Records Act. This Section III and these Guidelines are intended to satisfy Section 6(a)(6.5) of the Illinois School Student Records Act, which authorizes a school district to release student records to law enforcement officers when necessary for the discharge of their official duties prior to adjudication of the student and upon written certification that the information disclosed by the school will not be disclosed to any other party, except as provided by law or order of court.
- D. Not Educational or School Records. School Officials shall follow State and Federal laws regarding student records. Consistent with Section 10/2(d) of the Illinois School Student Records Act, reports of Police Officials working in a school shall be deemed the reports of a law enforcement professional and shall not be considered a student record. For purposes of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, 20 U.S.C. 1232(g), Police Officials designated to work with the School District pursuant to these Guidelines shall be considered a law enforcement unit of the school such that the records created by Police Officials for the purpose of law enforcement shall not be considered educational records. The information derived from law enforcement records shall be kept separate from and shall not become a part of the official school record of the student and shall not be a public record pursuant to Section 1-7(A)(8)(A) of the Juvenile Court Act.
